A TOUCH OF MAGIC

An elegant and graceful collection of crystal vases with gentle colours. It invokes the heritage of Moser. It's linked to the past and the present, tradition with an innovative approach to colours that play a magical game with rays of sunlight.

A WORD FROM THE DESIGNER

“The vase bears Moser’s DNA. It has the same shape with edges that we’ve made in the glassworks since the turn of the last century. I used traditional colours that are nearly 100 years old. I lightened them and pushed them into a contemporary light,” says Jan Plecháč, designer and Art Director at Moser.

THE MAGIC OF COLOURS

Only a subtle amount of colour is used in the vases. The thin layer is nearly invisible in the crystal. In one moment, the rosalin, beryl, or aquamarine are hardly noticeable, yet in another, they softly permeate through the entire vase. Daisy excels both as a solitaire and in the set of three colour variations.
